UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

8 JOSE LUIS JIMENEZ, No. C 08-2551 MHP (pr)
9 Petitioner,ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE
10 v.
11 B. CURRY, warden,
12 Respondent.

INTRODUCTION

15 Jose Luis Jimenez, an inmate at the Correctional Training Facility in Soledad, filed
16 this pro se action seeking a writ of habeas corpus pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2254. His petition
17 is now before the court for review pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §2243 and Rule 4 of the Rules
18 Governing Section 2254 Cases. His in forma pauperis application also is before the court for 19 consideration.

BACKGROUND

21 Jimenez was convicted in Los Angeles County Superior Court of second degree
22 murder and was sentenced in 1986 to a term of 15 years to life in prison. His petition does
23 not challenge his conviction but instead challenges an April 12, 2007 decision by the Board
24 of Parole Hearings ("BPH") to find him not suitable for parole. Jimenez alleges that he filed
25 habeas petitions in state courts, including the California Supreme Court, before filing this 26 action.

DISCUSSION

1                   This court may entertain a petition for writ of habeas corpus "in behalf of a person in
2 custody pursuant to the judgment of a State court only on the ground that he is in custody in 3 violation of the Constitution or laws or treaties of the United States." 28 U.S.C. § 2254(a).
4                   A district court considering an application for a writ of habeas corpus shall "award the writ or
5 issue an order directing the respondent to show cause why the writ should not be granted,
6 unless it appears from the application that the applicant or person detained is not entitled 7 thereto." 28 U.S.C. § 2243. Summary dismissal is appropriate only where the allegations in 8 the petition are vague or conclusory, palpably incredible, or patently frivolous or false. See 9 Hendricks v. Vasquez, 908 F.2d 490, 491 (9th Cir. 1990).

10                  Jimenez alleges in his petition that the BPH's decision violated his right to due process
11 because it was not supported by some evidence and it was arbitrary and capricious. See 12 Board of Pardons v. Allen, 482 U.S. 369 (1987); Sass v. California Board of Prison Terms, 13 461 F.3d 1123, 1126-27 (9th Cir. 2006). He also alleges there is a "no parole" policy in the 14 BPH, which appears to be a due process claim for a biased decision-maker. Liberally 15 construed, the due process claims are cognizable. The equal protection claims that he was 16 not given individualized consideration (Petition, p. I-F) and that the BPH discriminates
17 among those serving indeterminate sentences (id. at I-J) appear inconsistent but are not 18 patently frivolous. The petition warrants a response.

19                  Jimenez's petition urges that there were state law errors in the parole proceedings and 20 state court review, and includes lengthy discussions of state court cases in his petition. A 21 federal court has jurisdiction to issue the writ to remedy violations of the laws, treaties, or 22 Constitution of the United States, see 28 U.S.C. § 2254(a), but not to remedy violations of 23 state law. Estelle v. McGuire, 502 U.S. 62, 67-68 (1991). The state law claims are 24 dismissed. In his traverse, Jimenez should strive to focus his discussion on the federal 25 constitutional claims.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons,

1. The petition warrants a response from respondent.

2. The clerk shall serve by certified mail a copy of this order, the petition and all ments thereto upon respondent and respondent's attorney, the Attorney General of the of California. The clerk shall also serve a copy of this order on petitioner.

3. Respondent must file and serve upon petitioner, on or before December 19,

2008, conforming in all respects to Rule 5 of the Rules Governing Section 2254 Cases, showing cause why a writ of habeas corpus should not be issued. Respondent must file with the answer a copy of all portions of the parole hearing record that have been previously transcribed and that are relevant to a determination of the issues presented by the petition.

4. If petitioner wishes to respond to the answer, he must do so by filing a traverse with the court and serving it on respondent on or before January 30, 2009. The traverse may not exceed 25 pages in length.

5. Petitioner is responsible for prosecuting this case. He must keep the court informed of any change of address and must comply with the court's orders in a timely fashion. Failure to do so may result in the dismissal of this action for failure to prosecute pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 41(b).

6. The in forma pauperis application is DENIED as unnecessary because petitioner has paid the filing fee. (Docket # 2.)

IT IS SO ORDERED.
